East India Company

I Original Correspondence. E/3/1-50

This series covers the period from 1600 to 1700 and contains original letters sent to the Court of Directors in London from the Company's different trading settlements in the Indian Ocean, from the Red Sea and the Persian Gulf to the Western Coast of India, North India, the Coromandel, Bay of Bengal, the Java Sea, the Gulf of Siam, South China Sea, and briefly, Japan. The letters contain detailed and often daily reports on the Company's trade, shipping movements, economic information on local and interport trade, overland caravan routes, commercial regulations such as customs payments, Indian Ocean shipping, weather, the state of annual agricultural production, famines, industrial production and weavers, imperial politics, warfare, and diplomatic negotiations. It is one of the most comprehensive sources of first hand historical information on the Indian Ocean during the seventeenth century

Volume 1 to 50, 1600-1700, in Microfilm Reel No. 1-50, approximately 25,000 pages of handwritten documents.

II. Despatch Book E/3/86-111

This series contains Despatches sent by the Court of Directors to their officials in the Indian Ocean, and again like the Original Correspondence, the letters were the main controlling mechanism between the Company's central organisation and the far-flung settlements and trading factories in different parts of Asia. It is an essential source of historical information on the commercial affairs, markets, commodities, merchants, and shipping in the context of international demand and supply.

Volumes 86 to 111, 1664-150, in Microfilm Reel No. 51-60, containing approximately 7,000 folio pages of original handwritten documents.

III. Letters received from Coast and Bay, E/4/21, in Microfilm Reel No. 60. Letters from the Company's officials in Calcutta reporting on trade and finance in the Mughal Subah of Bengal and the Company's commercial affairs including textile investments.

IV. Letters Received from Coast and Bay, E/4/4, Microfilm Reel No. 61.

Letters from the Company's officials in Calcutta reporting on trade and finance in the Mughal Subah of Bengal and the Company's commercial affairs including textile investments.

V Letters Received from Bombay, Microfilm Reel No. 62.

Factory Records: Diary and Consultations

Factory Records were minutes of the official weekly or daily meetings of the Councils composed of the Company's senior officials. Besides discussion of the Company's commercial and political affairs, the Factory Records also contain enclosures and reports on local trade, interport trade, and the politics of on the Indian Ocean.
